1. Mr. Dulles referred to me a [redacted] who has extensive interests in Central and South America. I called [redacted] and made arrangements to have [redacted] debriefed. Arrangements will also be made to have him debriefed in the future at some regular period.

25X1A9a 2. I requested O/CI to send up for Mr. Dulles' use over the weekend the material prepared respecting South America. When the material was received here, it seemed to me that it was highly over-classified. I spoke to [redacted] about this and requested that O/CI give some serious consideration to a realistic determination as to the classification of material disseminated outside that office. I felt that many times, changes could be made in the write-up which would be of no significance whatsoever to the ultimate consumer, but which would permit a much more realistic classification of the paper and much less restricted use by its consumers.

25X1A9a 3. After reviewing [redacted] redraft of a paragraph in the I&S letter respecting the ICIS proposal restricting clearances of foreigners to whom U. S. intelligence is disseminated, I phoned [redacted] and indicated that I was perfectly satisfied with same.

4. At the request of Mr. Dulles, made available to Nelson Rockefeller certain information respecting the status of the telecommunications problem. Mr. Rockefeller used this material in preparing a memorandum for the use of his committee.
